A block of ice, with temperature $-10^\circ$C is placed into a container of water with temperature $20^\circ$C. The mass of the block of ice is 0.50 kg and the mass of the water is 3.0 kg. Assume the container is well insulated, so that no heat is lost or added. Determine the final phase of the mixture, and calculate its temperature.

Answer: